

Toughen Up Buttercup!

Yes, this can be a rough road to go down as finding a new job can take time, be disheartening and not happen to plan – SO TOUGHEN UP!

You will get there in the end and if you use all the information found in this course, it won't be nearly as bad as you think.

- I have been in the rejection business for over 15 years.
- “Candidate care” in Recruitment. “It’s like inviting 100 people to a party at your house and then leaving 95 of them outside in the rain.”
- Recruiters are professionals so best to assume that everyone else is just making it up as they go along.
- People don’t always hire the best person, they often hire the one they like.
- Most people want to hire someone who can do the job straight away as small to medium business, which are the biggest employers, don’t have the resources to train everyone.
- Toughen up buttercup - you're about to be rejected A LOT so get used to it and stay focused
- Be prepared to climb the ladder - in both directions – remember, if you are unemployed you’re on nothing.
- Stats show you are going to spend 13 years of your life at work. You might as well enjoy it.
